

Underwater Ceramic Technician

Location: Burger King

Job Type: Part-Time / Full-Time

About the Role

Burger King is diving deep into excellence and seeking a detail-oriented, highly motivated individual to join our elite team of Underwater Ceramic Technicians (UCTs). If you take pride in cleanliness, enjoy working independently, and don't mind getting your hands (and everything else) wet, this might be your calling!

Key Responsibilities

- Perform precision cleaning of ceramic-based assets (commonly referred to as dishes) beneath the surface of our restaurant's aquatic cleaning environment (the sink).
  - Operate high-powered aquatic cleaning equipment (sprayers and sponges).
  - Ensure all dishes, trays, and utensils meet Burger King's gold standard for sanitation.
  - Work closely with the kitchen team to maintain a seamless supply of clean ceramic tools.
  - Occasionally participate in dry-land duties such as wiping tables and mopping floors.

Qualifications

- No scuba certification required, but a willingness to get soaked is essential.
- Ability to remain calm under wet conditions.
- A great attitude and sense of humor.
- High attention to detail and commitment to cleanliness.
- Previous dishwashing experience a plus, but not required—on-the-job training provided.

Compensation and Perks

- Competitive hourly wage ($16–$18/hour depending on experience).
- Free meal during shift (Whopper enthusiasts encouraged).
- Flexible hours and a team-oriented environment.
- Bragging rights for having the coolest job title in fast food.
